

What do I do after I move?

You just have a few more steps to take care of once you move has gone smoothly. There might be a few things you still need to take care of from the previous steps that you could not get to before due to time constraints. But once everything has been disposed of, cleaned and straightened up, you're ready for your housewarming party to start!

- Cleaning: Clean your old apartment yourself or have it cleaned with an acceptance guarantee
- Turning your old apartment back over to the landlord: Have the landlord go through and inspect your old apartment and sign the return form
- Any deficiencies or defects list: Note any deficiencies found in the new apartment and give it to the landlord
- Nameplates: Put your name on the new name plate and remove the old names
- Security deposit: Ask for the security rent deposit back for your old apartment
- Damage that occurred during moving: Report any damage to the removal company within three days
- Getting to know your neighbors: Introduce yourself to your new neighbors
